

Insight and the Macaulay Institute invite you to

ENCOUNTERS WITH FARMERS AND NOMADS OF THE HIMALAYAS:
Innovative steps in Participatory Action Research.

A joint project by Insight and the Macaulay Institute using Participatory Video to value and share indigenous knowledge and ways of managing natural resources. Enabling bottom-up communication with external agencies such as Research Institutions, Policy Makers and NGOs. You will see excerpts of four participatory video messages filmed and directed by communities from Ladakh (India), Pakistan and China (Eastern Tibet). You will also see how the films were used to elicit responses from international scientists at a recent workshop.

Thursday 7th July; 6.30 to 9.00pm

At the
Stanhope Centre
Stanhope House, Stanhope Place
London W2 2HH,
Tel: 0207 479 5900

For directions, please visit their website at www.stanhopecentre.org

FREE ENTRY, DRINKS AND ASIAN SNACKS

www.insightshare.org

www.macaulay.ac.uk

If you would like to attend please send your details to Alicia Ong by Friday 1st July at alicia.ong@stanhopecentre.org

---

Friday 8th July 2005

All day Drop-in
At the
Stanhope Centre

See the films and a photographic exhibition throughout the day
Also

PARTICIPATORY VIDEO WORKSHOPS:

Hands-on PV exercises in small groups to introduce techniques and share experiences of using PV in the field. Facilitated by Insight Directors, Chris and Nick Lunch

At 10-11.30am and 2-3.30pm

Book early – Limited numbers

Please send responses by Friday 24th June to Alicia Ong at alicia.ong@stanhopecentre.org